Former Alltel Employee Benefits Investigation

Contact Us: employee@emersonpoynter.com

Emerson Poynter LLP focuses its legal practice on class action litigation and has represented employees across the nation in litigation concerning employee benefit plans, severance, and other issues that worry employees and former employees.

In January of 2009, Verizon completed its acquisition of Alltel. Many former employees of Alltel lost their jobs, but were to receive certain benefits and severance from Verizon. Former Alltel employees are complaining that they are not receiving all that they were supposed to under their severance agreement.

If you are a former Alltel employee, and are having trouble getting all of your severance or any other benefit that you thought you were to receive please contact us. We understand these kinds of problems, and want to help.
