The site of a newborn baby getting bathed is enough to bring a smile to anyone's face. However, if the parents of this child knew the chemicals they were exposing their child to, would THEY be smiling?

Emerson Poynter LLP has filed a class-action lawsuit in the United States Federal Court—Central District of California—Western District against Johnson & Johnson, Inc on behalf of all other persons similarly situated who have purchased and used Johnson's® bath and personal care products for babies and children.

The following products are alleged to contain hazardous chemicals such as 1,4-dioxane and Formaldehyde.

Johnson's® Baby Shampoo
Johnson's® Moisture Care Baby Wash
Johnson's® Oatmeal Baby Wash—Vanilla
Aveeno Baby Soothing Relief Creamy Wash

Emerson Poynter LLP is experienced in this type of litigation and would like to work for you.
