Pamper with Dry Max Diaper Investigation

Contact Us: consumer@emersonpoynter.com

Emerson Poynter LLP, a leading advocate for consumer protection and a leader in consumer class action litigation, is investigating reports that Procter & Gamble's Pampers with Dry Max brand of diapers causes rashes and chemical burns on some children. The brands affected include:

Swaddler and Cruisers

Both were updated in early March and are thinner and reportable more absorbent than previous versions

Our investigation centers around consumer complaints of unexplained rashes and possible chemical burns to toddlers using these products. These complaints have also prompted the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission to launch its own probe into the safety of these products.
